THE CITY TODAY

Springfield, Massachusetts was settled in 1636, as a result of the efforts of William Pynchon and a band of faithful followers who sought the fertile valleys in this part of the country, for homesteading purposes. It was made a town May 14, 1636, O.S., and incorporated a city May 25, 1852.

The city has grown to a community having a population of 149,554. Springfield is 99 miles from Boston; 103 miles from Albany, New York, and 135 miles from New York City. Immediately surrounding Springfield are numerous smaller towns and cities, including among the first, West Springfield, Longmeadow, East Longmeadow, Wilbraham and Ludlow, and among the latter, Chicopee.

Springfield has, since the last part of the eighteenth century, been continuously developing as a manufacturing center, although surrounded by communities agricultural in character. The industry of the community is of varied quality. The skill of workmen to be found here has developed the popularity of the community as an industrial section for the manufacture of many varied products. For the most part, raw materials and supplies are transported to the city. The location of the city nearly equidistant from the three large centers—Boston, Albany and New York—is an enviable one.

The rolling hills rising from the Connecticut River Valley provide for excellent residential sections.

The prevailing meteorological conditions give to Springfield typically New England seasons with charming summers and cold winters with some snow.

SERVICE INSTITUTIONS

Springfield is fortunate in having a group of public utility organizations which aid, and have for many years, in the development of the community. Under the municipality, there operates a Springfield Water Works the activities of which provide the community with excellent drinking water, piped to the city from the eastern foot-hills of the Berkshires. An excellent reservoir system practically doubling a previous capacity, and provides a maximum flow adequately to care for the city for many years to come.

SPRINGFIELD GAS LIGHT RATES, FEBRUARY 13, 1948

Household rate

first 100 feet $1.00; next 900 feet 15½ cents; excess 11½ cents per 100 feet.

Water heat and refrigeration

Heating rate

first 100 feet at $1.00; next 900 feet at 15½ cents; next 1,000 feet at 11½ cents; next 3,000 feet at 7½ cents; over 5,000 feet at 6 cents.

All rates are net subject to fuel surcharge.

Springfield has long been recognized as a community in which the educational facilities are of an unusually high standard. The public schools' program is most complete and leads the pupil through the primary grades and junior high schools into one of four high schools of excellent standing and character. In the first—the Classical High School the curriculum is of an essentially academic character, providing for the continuance of education in the academic colleges and universities. The second—the Technical High School—is fundamentally an engineering school and offers courses leading directly to industrial work or into the higher engineering colleges. The third—the High School of Commerce—prepares the pupil thoroughly for a business career and also for entering into a limited group of colleges. The fourth—the Springfield Trade School prepares the pupil for industrial employment.

Freight rates prevail for the shipment of raw materials and finished products into and from the city on a basis which permits our manufacturers to compete with others in similar lines in other parts of the country.

Springfield has dwelling units for 42,291 (1940 Federal Census) families and has long been known as a community of home lovers. The environment which has been created is a result of a mixed population, possessing many natural advantages and proving pleasing to all. There are many community civic organizations, each of which was definitely formed for the improvement of its part of the city.

CONSUMING POWER

Farm products valued at approximately $7,093,750 were raised in Hampden County in 1946 and consumed mostly in this area. $82,250,889 worth of stock and materials was used in our factories in 1945. Springfield is forced to import from outside all basic raw materials even to lumber and depends on its skilled labor and native ingenuity in fabrication to maintain its industrial supremacy. The normal consummation of a population of 160,000 is augmented by at least 100,000 to include traveling men, attendants at conventions, schools, etc.

INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

The latest available statistics in Springfield show 294 establishments making as many different lines, paying wages of $50,962,812 employing 21,087 people and producing $200,061,133 worth of products. Many of these factories manufacture products known the world over and spread the fame of Springfield into all countries. Westinghouse Motors and Bosch Magnetos, Indian Motocycles, Smith & Wesson revolvers, Springfield rifle, Absorbine Junior liniment, Monsanto chemical products, and Milton Bradley games and toys are typical examples. Industry in Springfield is highly diversified though the manufacture of electrical goods and equipment slightly predominates in value all other lines. Skilled artisans can usually find steady employment in Springfield due to this condition.

Springfield is justly proud of its title, "The City of Homes," and well deserves it. Abundance of water power in the valley has caused erection of enormous hydro-electric stations with the result that reasonable electrical rates prevail and practically all homes enjoy the use of electricity with all its advantages.

FINANCIAL SITUATION

Though having one of the lowest municipal tax rates in Massachusetts, Springfield has been continuously developing without unduly burdening the public and has a total outstanding net bonded indebtedness of but $4,734,000. Economy is the rule of Springfield's administration though large appropriaitons for permanent improvements are made yearly to keep pace with the schedule of the City Planning Board. Springfield has five commercial banks and three savings banks; Additional banks: 2 Co-op., 1 Federal Land Bank. The total banking department resources of these Springfield banks are $420,237,858 with clearings for 1947 of $354,965,166. Due to its being so accessibly located Springfield was chosen as the logical location for the establishment in New England of the district branch of The Federal Farm Loan System.

RETAIL TRADE

While Springfield has a population of but 159,896 people, its retailers serve a territory containing 450,000 population. The two main department stores of Springfield do an annual business in excess of $20,000,000. The large proportion of merchandise carried in Springfield is of a quality nature as there are no great number of the so-called poorer class in Springfield. Seventy-six per cent of its inhabitants are native born.

WHOLESALE TRADE

Springfield is served north, east, south and west by trunk line railroads and it has consequently become a well-known jobbing center. Stocks carried in Springfield cover practically every well-known product manufactured in the United States applicable to the northern climate and are distributed over a radius of more than 100 miles.

CIVICS AND WELFARE

Of outstanding value is the work done by the City Planning Board through whose efforts a definite arrangement for the control of the future growth and development of the city is projected and maintained.

Hospital facilities are more than complete, for the community is fortunate in possessing four hospitals caring for general cases, two hospitals maintained particularly for the care of maternity cases; and one hospital for diseases requiring isolation, erected by the city at a total cost of approximately $750,000. Beautifully modern, a wing of the Springfield Hospital, erected at a cost of $2,500,000, was opened late in 1931. Springfield is fortunate also in being the home of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children for the whole New England area. Medical and surgical treatment may be had from many physicians and surgeons of repute.

Health and sanitation are carefully guarded. Through our school system the health of the children is given more than adequate attention.

Springfield possesses every type of amusement and recreation offered in cities of its size —theaters, dancing salons, boating, canoeing, golfing, tennis—all of these are available. Supervised recreation for children is made possible through the very efficient work of the Springfield Park Department, through the agency of which are operated 140 public playgrounds, lands and parks covering more than two thousand acres.

CITY AS A CENTER

Springfield is the center to which tourists come over excellent highways, and through which they pass enroute to Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, as well as to points of interest in Eastern Massachusetts.

Springfield is a trading center for a population estimated at 450,000. To the community are attracted these persons who seek adequate shopping facilities, excellent stores, fine restaurants and hotels.

The industrial prestige of the city has been developed as a result of the skill of its workers in mechanical trades. It is in a sense an agricultural base, for here are located the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange, the Hampden County Improvement League, and many other agencies working co-operatively for the development of agriculture throughout all of New England.

Springfield is the Western Gateway to New England, and the most easily accessible city in New England from points outside thereof. During 1947, 26,595 persons attended 67 conventions held in the city of Springfield. The Springfield Chamber of Commerce operates a Convention & Visitors Bureau which actively solicits convention business and renders a maximum of co-operation to convention groups meeting in this city.

ADVANTAGES AND CLAIMS

In the last analysis, Springfield is the only city in the area between Boston, Albany and New York that has developed in a balanced way along the lines of beauty, education, finance, industry, mercantile and recreation. It is a community to which persons come to visit and remain to live and prosper.

CITY AS A SERVICE CENTER

The Springfield Chamber of Commerce for more than forty years has functioned in a capacity as a counsel and guide not only to citizens of the community, but to those from other cities seeking information or advice about the city. It is ready to co-operate in every practicable way to assure interested persons that they will receive adequate and reliable information concerning the community and its activities.

"What You Should Know About Your City"

"The helpful kind of patriotism is the kind that grows out of a knowledge of one's town, of her growth, her people, her property, her government and her needs. This knowledge develops, first, an intelligent interest: then, a sympathy: then a reasonable affection, a wise and temperate jealousy for her good name and a wish that she may prosper and grow more beautiful: and, finally, a desire to help her to become greater and finer, a bright and clean workshop and a home for the best of men and women."—John Cotton Dana.

The Price & Lee Co.
1653 Main Street Springfield 3, Mass.

This is one of the world's best known, most respected trade-marks. It has been the mark of the Pioneer in the sports equipment field since 1876. It is the symbol of an organization that has kept the faith with the Athlete, the Instructor and the Spectator for three generations.

Today, as always, every piece of athletic equipment bearing this trade-mark is accepted without question in America — and throughout the world — as the finest.

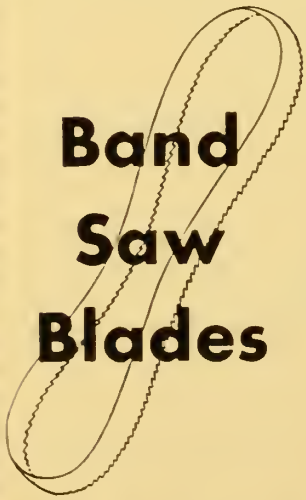
Hack Saw Blades

Hackmaster — UNBREAKABLE HAND BLADES — made of Molybdenum High Speed Steel — backs toughened so as to give them flexibility, and teeth edges hardened for durability.

High Speed — Genuine 18-4-1 High Speed Steel Hand and Power Blades, possess excellent cutting properties, great wearing and abrasive resistance qualities.

Mo-Speed — Hand and Power sizes. Molybdenum High Speed Steel Hack Saws — have unusual toughness in relation to their hardness, keen cutting edges, high efficiency.

Standard BLADES, hand sizes, the ordinary grade of hack saws made better. Can be furnished in the solid all hard type or the hard edge flexible back style.



Band Saw Blades

WHAT IS A REALTOR?

"REALTOR" is the name adopted by the National Association of Real Estate Boards as describing an active member of any one of the more than five hundred Boards in this country that are affiliated with the National Association, and have subscribed to the Association's "CODE OF ETHICS." The Courts have upheld the claim that this title cannot be used by anyone who is not a member of such a Board. Therefore, this term, used instead of "REAL ESTATE AGENT" is becoming increasingly known throughout the country as a synonym for correct methods of transacting the real estate business.
